Tribe gets $6.36 million
CARES Act provides funding for response to COVID-19

At 11:58 p.m. on March 18, the Bad River Reservation joined the rest of a frightened world, shutting down non-essential businesses in the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Today, 84 days later, the uncertainties of the pandemic and its financial toll still linger.

“Our Tribal staff monitored the state and federal assistance response in order to ensure that Bad River received financial help in the face of the pandemic,” said Tribal Chairman Mike Wiggins, Jr. “Sandy Bender has been instrumental in tracking and receiving the assistance from a variety of state and federal entities on behalf of the Bad River Tribe.”

The Bad River Band received $6.36 million under the CARES Department of the Treasury Coronavirus Relief Fund, according to Bender,

The beauty of Bad River and The Reservation have been threatened by the COVID-19 virus.

You must be tested for COVID-19 before returning to work, Page 13
Bad River’s Accounting Manager.

Formally known as The Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) Act, it was passed by Congress with overwhelming, bipartisan support and signed into law by President Trump on March 27. This more than $2 trillion economic relief package was designed to protect the American people from the public health and economic impacts of COVID-19.

Bender listed several ways in which the CARES Act funds might be used by The Tribe:

~ Hazardous pay to all employees who have been working during the pandemic.
~ Expanding Food Sovereignty efforts in response to the food chain disruption.
~ Clinic x-ray machine as a measure to increase COVID-19 treatment capacity.
~ Necessary facilities upgrades and repairs for public safety measures undertaken in response to COVID-19 (Generator, Heating/Cooling system repairs, roof repairs, parking lot repairs, handicap accessibility, security cameras, keyless entry).
~ A van, canoes, trailer for MNRD youth program to encourage social distancing.
~ Water and sewer, recycling equipment purchases and repairs.
~ Supplies for harm reduction and support for outreach efforts.
~ Assistance to families for Internet access and electronics for distance learning.

Bender said CARES Act funds may only be used to cover costs that are 1, necessary expenditures incurred due to the public health emergency with respect to the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19); 2, were not accounted for in the budget most recently approved as of March 27, 2020 (the date of enactment of the CARES Act for the state or government; and 3, were incurred during the period that begins on March 1, 2020, and ends on December 30, 2020.

Under the terms of the CARES Act, Bender said the Tribe must make use of the money before December 30.

Bender said the final budget for the CARES Act funds was approved by the Tribal Council on May 20, 2020.

“Finance will monitor and report to Tribal Council, administration, and department heads regarding funded budget line items,” Bender said. “Capital Expenditures will also require Tribal Council approval as part of the procurement process.”

Bender said the Tribe also received a total of $1,877,677 under the Small Business Administration’s Payroll Protection Program.

“This was to cover payroll for all Tribal businesses (Water and Sewer, recycling, clinic, Lodge, Falls Lounge, Smoke Shop, restaurant, Moccasin Trail Complex, Casino, Superior Connections, and the Community Development Corporation),” Bender said. “These funds were distributed as a loan but the Tribe is eligible to apply for forgiveness based on certain criteria. The Tribe has the option to utilize up to 25 percent of these funds for eligible utility costs for each of the Tribal businesses.”

Bender said payroll for tribal employees was covered through April 24, 2020. “Voluntary layoffs were then taken by a few employees after that and then more Casino employees the following week,” Bender said.
Bender listed other grants received by The Tribe:
~ HUD, Indian Housing Block Grant, $509,362;
~ DHHS nutrition (for the Elders), $83,160;
~ DHHS child care, $58,175;
~ DHHS child welfare, $49,699;
~ Federal Transit Authority, $355,359;
~ HIS, $814,781;
~ SAMHSA Native Connections, $97,402 (under Youth Services);
~ BIA (welfare assistance), $89,172;
~ (General Assistance, Burial Assistance, Foster Care Assistance);
~ GLITC CDC, $88,400 (to the Clinic);
~ CDC, $79,819 (PPE, IT assessment);
~ Marshfield Clinic, $4,000 (IT equipment);
~ National Network of Public Institutes, $6,000 (to the Clinic);
~ National Congress of American Indians, $5,000 (to Food Sovereignty);
~ GLITC Medical College, $43,000 (for a tiny house and Food Sovereignty);
~ Head Start/Early Head Start, $32,480, for PPE, cleaning supplies, picnic tables;
~ Wisconsin DHS Public Health ER Quarantine, will reimburse direct expenses for quarantine;
~ BIA (other Aid to Tribal Government), $1,750,446 (artesian well improvements at Bad River Hatchery);
~ Enrollment REAL ID & Software Upgrades;
~ Facilities payroll support, cleaning supplies and equipment;
~ IT software, upgrades, laptops for remote work;
~ Hand-held radios to enhance communication efforts;
~ Sewer pumper truck;
~ Internet capacity expansion for Odanah tower;
~ Emergency Response truck, etc.

The Bad River Tribe’s Stay-at-Home resolution is set to expire on June 15. However, the Bad River Emergency Management team continues to meet daily for check-ins and overall planning purposes. The Bad River Health & Wellness Center staff studies local and regional data to advise the Tribal government on creating a re-opening plan that focuses on the health and safety of the overall community. And based on that data, the June 15 date could change, and further extend the Stay-at-Home order.

The resolution continues to suspend non-essential travel for Bad River Tribal employees. Each department has been working with its staff to highlight work restrictions and also develop plans to minimize the potential for COVID-19 infections.

The Tribe has been working with other Tribes, the State of Wisconsin, Ashland County, CDC, and other relevant federal agencies.

“The daily Covid-19 response meetings have shown us how dynamic things can be as we try to keep our community safe,” Chairman Wiggins said. “From scrambling through protective supply and food shortages, to lack of testing equipment, its been a struggle to stay on top of the pandemic and its uncertainties. Our Tribal Council and department heads worked diligently to identify areas of need, both organizationally, and community-wide to address the COVID-19 pandemic.

“The budgets that we are currently managing are very much fluid and will change based on the changing needs of our community and the state of the pandemic. The important thing is trying to anticipate worst-case scenarios so we are ready to respond as a Tribal Government.

“Many of the project undertakings we are trying to administer fall under housing, infrastructural upgrades, supplies/equipment, food security, technology upgrades and employee hazard pay. Many of these areas are also clearly identified as needs within the Tribal Strategic plan that was adopted by the Tribal Council in 2018. Many of these needs have now become amplified by the pandemic.

Health is No. 1 for Tribe

Re-opening date might be June 15

By Richard J. Pufall
For the Bad River Band

The Bad River Tribe’s Stay-at-Home resolution is due to expire on June 15. If, indeed, that is the day when the Tribe re-opens all non-essential businesses, it would be a healthy 20 days beyond Wisconsin Gov. Tony Evers’ intended date of May 26.

When the Wisconsin Supreme Court overturned Evers’ order on May 13, the Tribe not only supported the Governor’s plan but built in more stay-at-home time, clearly showing that the health of Reservation residents was more important than economic concerns.

Health remains the top priority as the Bad River Emergency Management team continues to meet daily for check-ins and overall planning purposes. The Bad River Health & Wellness Center staff is following local and regional data to advise the Tribal government on creating a re-opening plan that focuses on the health and safety of the overall community.

So, June 15 looms as the tentative re-opening date, but is not chiseled in stone.

Of course, the COVID-19 pandemic has plunged everyone into uncharted waters, where no one can know for certain what is good timing.

The Tribe’s public health nurses – Tina Gerovac-Lavasseur and Pamela Feustel – said they knew the reopening date was coming and are prepared to respond, no matter when.

The nurses said that each area of the Tribe has been working on a safe re-opening plan. They assured everyone that the Tribe remains focused on the safety of the community.

Bad River, the Health and Wellness Center and the nurses have a perfect record to defend. You see, since the first positive case of COVID-19 was reported in Wisconsin, there have been none on The Reservation and, of course, no deaths.

So, Tribal leaders continue to consult with health professionals on staff to make informed decisions with the safety of the community in mind.

“As Public Health Nursing Supervisor, I have been involved in these decisions,” Feustel said. “We want to be sure that the community is protected and are taking the steps necessary to do our part.”

The nurses, all along, have

been proactive in their approach, making sure there is a plan in place to deal with all contingencies.

“We plan to have additional screening prior to entering the building for our patients,” Gerovac-Lavasseur said. “Our employees are also being screened for symptoms daily prior to their shift. We will utilize one entrance, and one separate exit to ensure flow of traffic and enhance social distancing.”

With the end of Safer-at-Home orders around the country, nice weather and the beginning of the tourist season, the odds of the COVID-19 virus being carried into our area have, of course, increased. No one is more aware of these factors than the health professionals at the Wellness Center.

“Like anywhere, I believe the greatest concern is that we will see a surge of COVID-19,” Feustel said. “This is not necessarily because Bad River is opening back up, but because the Safer-at-Home order has been lifted which has given individuals in the state much more freedom to travel.”

Along with prudent and focused medical practices, the nurses believe that a positive approach and teamwork will help the Reservation handle any challenges that might present themselves.

“We have been preparing as a Tribal Entity from the day we reduced services,” Gerovac-Lavasseur said. “We have worked together as a team across departments to ensure that we are doing everything in our power to keep our community safe. The teamwork has been astounding, and the fact that the team has the wellbeing of the community at the center of our work is not only encouraging, but proof that we will remain Bad River Strong.”

A concern expressed by many has been that some will get the wrong message from the re-opening of non-essential businesses. Will it be viewed, by some, as the green light that the threat of the coronavirus is over, and we can “return to normal” without following safety guidelines?

“I do not believe that to be true,” Feustel said. “We have increased communication to everyone within the community. We have done education with each department and have continued our community education on how to stay protected from COVID-19.

“We have flyers posted and, on the Website, (which we update frequently). We plan to continue this so that our community can remain safe and protected from this virus. Drum Beats has also been a very effective way for us to be able to communicate information.”

We cannot continue to live in fear

The Tribal Council is pondering the best day. It’s not “a date which will live in infamy.” No, it’s not Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941. It’s not D-Day. It’s not the Normandy Invasion on June 6, 1944.

But it is an important date in our future. And it is coming soon. It’s the day The Bad River Reservation reopens for business in the face of a still formidable foe: The COVID-19 virus. The Tribe’s Stay-at-Home resolution is set to expire on June 15. But if the need arises, it could be a later date.

And most eyes will be on the Bad River Lodge and Casino, the biggest business and income generator on The Reservation.

At present, the re-opening day is not an important historical date. But it could and should be. It all depends on the behavior of the major players. And you are among them.

To be sure, Tribal residents have done their part. Since the first positive case of the coronavirus was recorded in Wisconsin on February 5, there have been none on The Reservation. And in all of Ashland County, there have been just three positive cases and no deaths.

But the Bad River Lodge and Casino has been closed since 11:59 p.m. on March 18. And that closure has kept away many visitors and tourists who might, unwittingly, be carriers of the COVID-19 virus.

Tribal residents have done their part. They have self-quarantined. They have given up jobs to follow “Safer-at-Home” guidelines. They have washed and sanitized their hands and have worn masks. They have maintained the proper “social distance.”

And the Bad River Tribal Council has done its part, too. The Council stood by Wisconsin Gov. Tony Evers “Stay-at-Home” order even after the State Supreme Court overturned Evers’ order on May 13. Evers’ order was due to run out on May 26. The Tribal Council, in fact, has wisely added many more days to the order, to give The Reservation crucial time to prepare to reopen.

But, of course, with the extra time comes no guarantees that The Reservation can maintain its perfect record against COVID-19. Especially since, once open, more visitors to The Reservation and the Lodge and Casino increases the chances that COVID-19 will be among the guests.

And the numbers certainly support the merit of both Evers’ intentions and the wisdom of the Bad River Tribal Council.

On May 27, two weeks to the day after the Supreme Court overturned Evers’ “Safer-at-Home” order, Wisconsin set a one-day record for new coronavirus cases. In a 24-hour period a record 642 positive cases were recorded. That increased the number of active cases by 10 percent. And that was the deadliest day so far with 22 people succumbing to the disease. As of today, June 10, there have been 21,593 positive cases of COVID-19 and 671 deaths in our state.

Certainly, those numbers do not tout the wisdom of reopening the economy on any level. And many worry that returning to business as usual sends a bad message to the uninformed or casual observers that a reopened economy means the threat of COVID-19 is closed.

Truth is, the threat is more real and wide open than ever. There is no vaccine. Positive cases and deaths continue to grow at an alarming rate.

Most of us understand that this deadly monster is still knocking at our door. So why open it to business?

Because we cannot continue to live in fear. A life of constant fear is not much of a life at all. If you believe we can have both an open economy and a happy, healthy populous, you are not alone. The public health nurses, Pamela Feustel and Tina Gerovac-Lavasseur, of the Bad River Health and Wellness Center, agree with you.

So, we can go about our business, but not “as usual.” We must continue to wash and sanitize our hands, wear masks, and keep a healthy social distance from others.

Yes, life will be worth living. But for a while, it will be a little different.

MEDIA STATEMENT

Bad River Statement on Prevention of COVID-19 within the Reservation

In a decision May 13, 2020 the State Supreme Court decided almost all of the State’s Safer-at-Home Order, Executive Order 28, is not enforceable. In response Michael Wiggins Jr., Bad River Chairman, issued the following statement:

“The Bad River Tribal Council closed the gaming facility and limited other activities in Odanah, Wis. with the outcome of protecting our tribal community and surrounding areas.

“Regardless of the State Supreme Court decision, the Bad River Band of Lake Superior Chippewa will continue to follow the ‘Safer-at-Home’ guidance with the outcome of protecting the safety and health of the community while relying closely on the guidance of our public health and medical staff.

“We encourage other governments and municipalities or the broader public to voluntarily follow the safer-at-home guidelines to ensure the long-term safety and health of our communities.”

What Tribal Members need to know about COVID-19

What is coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19)?
Coronaviruses are a type of virus (germ) that can cause cold-like symptoms and sometimes serious problems with lungs and breathing. COVID-19 is a novel (new) coronavirus.

What are the symptoms of COVID-19?
Mild to severe respiratory illness, or problems with lungs and breathing. Symptoms include:
- Cough or shortness of breath.
- Or at least two of these symptoms:
- Fever, chills, repeated shaking with chills, muscle pain, headache, sore throat, or new loss of taste or smell.

How does COVID-19 spread?
Person to person by coughing, sneezing, or personal contact like touching or shaking hands. Someone with mild symptoms may spread the disease without knowing they are sick.

Who is most at risk?
Anyone can get COVID-19. Those at risk of severe illness include:
- Elders and adults over 60 years of age,
- People with heart disease, lung disease, or diabetes.

How can I protect myself and my family?
Stay at home. “Social distancing” is recommended. This means keeping your family at home and away from others who may be sick.
- If you must go out, wear a mask or bandana and try to stay 6 feet away from others.
- Avoid gatherings with other people.
- Avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth.
- Do not shake hands, hug, or touch others.
- Wash your hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds or use hand sanitizer.

Have there been cases of COVID-19 in our state?
Yes, there have been cases in all 50 states.

If someone gets sick, what can they do?
- If someone thinks they have been around someone with COVID-19 and they get a fever and symptoms such as cough or trouble breathing, they should call their healthcare provider or local Indian Health Service unit for medical advice.
- In an emergency, call 911.
- People who are mildly sick with COVID-19 do not need to see a healthcare provider and are able to recover at home.
- Cover coughs and sneezes with a tissue, then throw the tissue in the trash and wash hands.
- Stay home and away from others for 14 days to avoid getting others sick.
- Caregivers should keep sick family members away from others in the home and clean and disinfect surfaces and items that are touched often, like door handles, sink handles, toilets, remote controls, etc.

Is there a vaccine or treatment?
There is no vaccine. The best way to reduce the risk of getting sick with COVID-19 is to practice social distancing and healthy habits like washing hands regularly.
There is no specific treatment for COVID-19, but medical care can help relieve symptoms. If you are sick, call your healthcare provider for instructions.

Updated 4/27/2020
In response to the current status of the COVID-19 pandemic, the Mashkiiziibii Natural Resources Department recommends that all fish harvesters engaging in on reservation netting, spearing and dipnetting, adhere to the following precautions/guidelines:

Netting on Kakagon/Bad River/Lake Superior Shoreline
~When fishing in a boat with others, do so with people who live in your household.
~Wear gloves and a mask to reduce the possibility of the spread of disease.
~Limit the overall amount of people in your boat to a maximum of 3 people.

Spearing at the Bad River Falls
~When spearing at the Falls, please exercise social distancing protocol by staying 6 feet away from anyone not living in your household.
~Be respectful of an individual’s right to safe distance. Take it upon yourself not to impose on another’s safe space.
~Wear gloves and a mask to reduce the possibility of the spread of disease.

Dip-netting at Kakagon & Goslin Bridges
(Handwashing station and portapotty will be provided)
~Wear gloves and a mask to reduce the possibility of the spread of disease
~Maintain social distancing from creel clerks and wardens on the bridge.

The following are requirements that need to be met in order to participate in dipnetting this year:
1) One person per net will be enforced.
2) No one under the age of 18 will be allowed on the bridge.
3) Utilize the hand-washing station and hand sanitizer.
4) Adhere to Warden and Fisheries staff requests for creeling as there will be changes to the normal protocol.
5) Three marked areas of netting per each side of the Bridge Maximum. (6 total per bridge).
6) Stay in marked areas of your netting area while fishing.

We are including these additional rules for dip-netting due to the amount of people on the bridge in past years and the lack of space for everyone to maintain proper social distancing.

If there are any questions about the upcoming fishing season please feel free to call Brad Bigboy at 715-979-1181 or Gerald White at 715-292-7822.

By following these guidelines, you are reducing the spread of this new virus that has been proven to be dangerous to the elderly and immunocompromised.

Some guidelines for a safe funeral service

Boozhoo,

Bad River Health & Wellness Center extends our sincere condolences to those in our community who have lost a loved one.

In our Ojibwe language there is no word to say goodbye, the word we use is ‘giga-waabamin’ ‘miinawaa’ we’ll see you again.

Because of the Covid-19 virus, our Tribal government and surrounding Tribes are practicing guidelines set to keep everyone safe. Following our funeral services guidelines that have been put forth to help families stay safe as they honor loved ones. We share these guidelines in a good way in the hopes that they help our people protect each other while still conducting services for their loved ones journey.

We care for everyone in our community and want everyone to be safe. While supplies last, up to 30 masks can be requested for services.

Remember “Zhwenidig” Take Care Of Each Other.

Funeral Guidance

The following are recommendations that should be considered to prevent the spread of Covid-19 and protect the health and safety of all during funeral services.

- Tribal communities have large extended families & friends, we are respectfully asking to consider smaller funerals
- People who feel sick or are at-risk should stay home, we can pray for our loved one or family from home.
- Please consider recommended social distancing guidelines.
- Wash your hands frequently and/or use hand sanitizer.
- Choose a seat that follows social distancing guidelines.
- Please know that while the CDC has said there is no COVID-19 risk posed by the body of someone who has died, it recommends not touching, kissing, or having direct contact with the body of your loved one. If touching occurs, the person should wash their hands or use hand sanitizer before touching anything or anyone else.
- CDC recommends wearing cloth face masks at funerals.
- Do not place cloth face covering on young children under age 2. Also, do not place a face mask on anyone who has trouble breathing or who is unconscious or unable to remove the mask without assistance.
