During challenging times, when we are down and out, it’s hard to stay positive and upbeat. And few times in our recent history have we faced more frightening days than those thrust upon us by the COVID-19 pandemic.

For more than three months we have been running in fear and dramatically changing our lifestyles to cope with this dreaded coronavirus which has brought sickness and death all over the world.

We have quarantined and socially-distanced ourselves from family and friends. Jobs have been lost or put on a long hold. Schools and the extracurricular activities that go with them have been closed and cancelled. Our travel freedoms aren’t what they once were, as we still stay closer to home. But the Bad River Band has found strength in its divided numbers, many of which have found themselves wearing masks and standing at least six feet apart. As a whole, made up of hard-working, dedicated parts, The Reservation has stood Bad River Strong.

Youth Services steps up strong during COVID-19

And the Youth Services Department, led by Lynn Maday-Bigboy, is an important subset of that strength.

“In this time of uncertainty, my focus has been on how do we serve our community and provide supports through this new normal,” said Maday-Bigboy. “My Youth Services team has remained working and deliver meals, educational material, mental health and physical health awareness. We have created a YouTube channel, have a Mashkiiziibii Youth Services Facebook page, and have reached out to families on a regular basis.

“My community lens includes mental health wellness, and I worry about those with mental health and substance use challenges, and during this time they are so isolated it can cause distress and depression. We try to stay positive and include resources for our community.”

The big hitters on Maday-Bigboy’s Youth Services team include Kateri DeFord, Nate Ante, Fred Pero, Mary Kaulaity, Star Ames, Danny Powless, Jr. and Hayley Nye.

“We have been trying to really address the needs of anyone that needs our help,” said Maday-Bigboy. “Our team of Kateri, Nate, Fred, Mary, Star, Danny, Hayley and I try to reach out as much as possible. We take pride in helping and lessening the load of our community and providing hope.”

Hope is a most wonderful thing and even better when served with the good, free food her department and volunteers have been passing out to those in need.

Maday-Bigboy was hired as Director of Youth Services in February of 2019 and brought a wealth of experience to the position, having been involved with youth for decades in a volunteer position, in JOM committee, youth organizations with the Ashland School District, and served on the Ashland School Board from 2001-2020.

She is also a Certified Parent Peer Specialist Trainer and Peer Specialist through the State of Wisconsin. And she worked for the Department of Interior for 18 years.

And through these stressful days of COVID-19 that have brought overwhelming health and financial concerns, Maday-Bigboy has been pleased to keep her staff working.

“I gave my team the option of being laid off, and they all agreed they thought it was important to be there for our youth and families,” she said. “We also have two youth supervisors joining us this month to help supervise the 50 youth age 14-17 that join us starting July 13, for employment.”

Lynn, a life-long Tribal member, is the daughter of Mel and Sharon Maday; a good person raised by good people. No surprise there.

“I’ve lived on or around the Reservation for most of my life, growing up on Ackley Road,” she said.

In college, she attended the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire then graduated from Lac Courte Oreilles Community College in 2004 with a degree in business administration.

Lynn, her husband Shine (Gary) and their son, Pierce, 22, have lived in a house on Caville Road (Diaperville) since 2005.

Her second family, the Youth Services Department, is also a great source of pride for Maday-Bigboy.

“We have the best team of caring and resourceful individuals who have taken up learning video production, running events, and are working on a calendar for the summer and beyond for every youth age group,” Maday-Bigboy said.

“We plan to do cultural activities including teachings, making regalia, harvesting, hand drums, and wild rice sticks. We have teamed with other departments to help fund these activities.”

With schools closed and students home-schooling for most of the second half of the 2019-2020 year, the Youth Services Department has worked hard to help where it can.

“We have collected homework, supported individual youth, delivered bags of soil, burlap bags and seeds to over 50 families on and off the Reservation, helped with fish distribution for Elders, and try to be as big of a help as possible to any Tribal departments, community, and school personnel,” Maday-Bigboy said.

But she won’t pretend that doing the job has been easy during these unsettling times.

“We continually provide resources, cultural, educational and fun stuff during this time,” she said. “It has been difficult not to see our youth, to joke, hear their stories and adventures, be a part of their daily life. We miss them so much.

“We continue to plan socially distant activities and events and in June we will be doing hiking trips and invite families in their own vehicle to attend. We also have a sign-up for those that need a ride. They do need to wear a mask in the van and bring their own snacks and filled water bottle. We do have sanitizer in each van.”

While Maday-Bigboy and her staff stay upbeat during a down time, delivering happiness and hope to many, they too enjoy some rewards, as well.

“Seeing the parents and kids watch us deliver meals each week,” she said. “They smile and some have signs for us. It really is heartfelt appreciation and that connection remains. We have had contests on our page to introduce themselves in Ojibwemowin and that went over very well. The videos were watched hundreds of times.”

The days of, “back to normal” are probably a long way off, but the Youth Services Department is prepared for what will come.

“We are moving forward with groups of 10 or less, including chaperones,” Maday-Bigboy said. “Masks required and required water bottles. For our summer youth sessions, instead of groups of 12-15 we will have groups of 5-6 and have partnered with VRNA (Maria Oja and Shane Wilmer) to provide PPE.”

The old saying, “what doesn’t kill you, makes you stronger,” might never have been more true than during the COVID-19 pandemic. But, it seems, all departments and Tribal members have done something right during this ordeal. Since the first positive case of COVID-19 was reported in Wisconsin on February 5, there have been none on the Reservation and, of course, no deaths.

“It has been difficult, and stressful, and I would be lying if I said I don’t lose sleep over moving forward in a good way,” Maday-Bigboy said. “We want to protect our Elders, we value and want to be helping them as much as possible, but it’s hard with COVID-19.

“We would like to do their lawns after July 13, and try to be as helpful as possible. We are all learning to take care of each other in a good way.”

She said her staff is partnering with families and empowering them with resources to provide for their needs.

“We are stronger as a team, we have all had rough days, suffered loss, and it’s been my management style to talk about our worries and concerns,” Maday-Bigboy said. “It’s OK to be feeling sad and worried, we have time to support each other and share our struggles with each other in a safe space. We don’t judge, we walk alongside each other and sometimes hold each other up. It’s a good feeling to know that our team has patience and respect for each other. We build each other up and in turn are strong enough to give back to the community.”

It’s no wonder that “Bad River Strong” is more than just a catchphrase. It is a reality.

“It’s all about our team,” Maday-Bigboy said. “We are all big-hearted and resourceful; each bringing our talents, skills, and perspective to the group. We laugh and sometimes we cry but we don’t ever give up. We try to model this behavior for our youth and families.”

And they remain upbeat during a down time.

No. 1: Limiting positive tests

Protection, not perfection is the goal

By Richard J. Pufall
For the Bad River Band

As most know, The Bad River Tribe has a perfect record when it comes to COVID-19, the coronavirus. Since the first positive case of the virus was reported in Wisconsin on February 5, there have been none on the Reservation. But for The Tribe’s public health nurses – Tina Gerovac-Lavasseur and Pamela Feustel – it’s all about protection not perfection.

With Tribal workers returning to their jobs and the tourist season upon us, many believe that more people, gathered more closely together than they have been in nearly four months, means the end of the perfect record.

“It would be great if we can remain COVID free on the Bad River Reservation, while this may be unrealistic, it is our goal to limit the number and severity of cases should we see any,” Feustel said.

If the positive cases do come, Feustel, Gerovac-Lavasseur and the entire Bad River Health and Wellness Center are prepared to meet the challenge. In fact, they already have.

Before the first Bad River employees could return to work on June 8, they had to be tested for COVID-19. Then, each day before beginning work they must undergo a temperature screening. Both practices are part of Reservation policy mandated by the Tribal Council.

“Most, if not all employees have been tested,” Feustel said. “As some employees have been laid off and have not returned to work yet, we cannot determine who still needs a test.”

The nurses and the Health and Wellness Center have been able to handle the added workload without the need for overtime. “We did, of course, see an increase in tests, but with teamwork we were able to accomplish completing the task of resulting within our scheduled workday hours,” Gerovac-Lavasseur said.

And the Wellness Center staff, with assistance from departmental employees, has found a way to fit daily temperature screenings into the regular schedule, as well.

“Daily temperature screenings officially started on June 8th, however some buildings, such as the Health and Wellness

COVID-19

Center started the screening for essential employees earlier than that date,” Gerovac-Lavasseur said. “Each day everyone who enters a building within the Bad River Tribal entity is screened to ensure we are not exposing anyone to a potential illness. Each department has designated screeners and they were trained by Public Health Nursing staff.

Feustel said 406 employees have received the COVID-19 test as of Tuesday, June 23.

The ease at which the tests and screenings have happened could not have been accomplished without the cooperation of the Bad River Community.

“We feel as though the Tribal community is grateful we have the testing tools right here at the BRHWC,” Gerovac-Lavasseur said. “Not only do we have the tests, but we can also have the results within 15 minutes of testing.”

Of great concern and the No. 1 threat to The Reservation’s perfect record of zero positive COVID-19 tests, will be the influx of tourists at such Tribal venues as the Lodge and Casino.

“We want all visitors to follow the safer-at-home guidance, social distance, wash your hands, cover your cough,” Feustel said. “We also want all visitors to the reservation to self-isolate and self-monitor for symptoms and get tested if possible.”

On June 17, the public health nurses sent out a reminder to all via Tribal email that restated what have become the words to live by since the middle of March:

“As we are all back to work and settling into our old routines, it is easy to forget that we are still in the middle of the COVID-19 Pandemic. Here are a few things you can do to reduce the risk of exposure to the virus:

~Be sure to wear a mask in public areas
~Remember to use social distancing practices (at least 6 feet apart)
~Avoid any unnecessary travel (especially to areas that are known hotspots)
~Stay at home if you are feeling ill.
~If you have any questions, you can reach out to Public Health.
~Stay Safe and Be Well.”

Many in the Tribal workforce have returned to their jobs, but the landscape has changed. Yes, the jobs and places are the same, but the time and circumstances are different.

The COVID-19 pandemic has seen to that, forcing us to change our daily game of living. Those changes began nearly four months ago when the coronavirus brought sickness and death to the entire world. And until we drive this fearsome foe from our door, we must live with the changes.

First, as the work staff already knows, all employees had to be tested for the COVID-19 virus at the Bad River Health and Wellness Center. Those not tested cannot return to work.

Then, before beginning each workday, all employees are subjected to a daily temperature screening.

If you know good ideas when you see them, then you know that testing and screening are great ideas. This isn’t much to ask when you consider your health, wellbeing and life hang in the balance.

And you know, after more than three months of joblessness, self-quarantine, extreme social distancing, tight budgets and separation from family, friends and co-workers, these mandatory requirements are a walk on the beach.

Call it the new normal. Call it life in the 21st century. At least for now.

Clearly, testing and screening are small prices to pay during this pandemic.

My guess is that Tribal members will happily embrace testing and screening as the intelligent, necessary response to this horrible, invisible enemy.

The good people of the Reservation have not been a health concern during this pandemic. On the contrary, at this writing there still has not been a positive case of the coronavirus on The Reservation, since the first case was reported in Wisconsin on February 5.

So, if there is an obstacle to sustained good health that must be hurdled, it will be the visitors, the tourists from outside communities who might unwittingly carry the coronavirus into Ashland County and The Bad River Reservation.

Those tourists, like us, have grown tired of living a restricted life. Now, with most of the country opening to non-essential businesses, those folks will be traveling and returning to some of their favorite destinations this summer, such as the Bad River Lodge and Casino.

That will be good for business, but the Tribal Council has clearly shown that finances finish a distant second to the good health of Reservation residents.

The Reservation must hope to see the best side of human nature when tourists begin to descend upon Bad River. They must treat the Bad River Community as they would their own homes.

But there is no magic bullet.

Joseph Khabbaza, a pulmonary and critical care physician at the Cleveland Clinic, said some of the biggest questions he’s been getting relate to travel activities.

Guess what? The good advice people received four months ago still holds true today.

Khabbaza said the primary path of transmission is contacts with respiratory droplets produced by infected people. Face masks, physical distancing, frequent hand-washing and cleaning and disinfecting of surfaces have become standard across the travel industry.

To be sure, Bad River will continue to practice these good-health guidelines.

But the spotlight will be on the travelers, the visitors, the tourists. They must be mindful of the fact that even if they don’t have symptoms, they can spread COVID-19 to others while traveling.

The coronavirus has dominated the headlines since the beginning of 2020. That’s no surprise. As of this morning, June 24, there have been 472,169 deaths from the virus, worldwide, and 120,240 in the United States, so that will draw understandable attention.

It’s human nature for those living today to see all major events as the best or worst of all time. But COVID-19 is not the worst thing to happen to the world. It’s just the most recent.

On May 15, 2020, the beautiful Kozee Montana Featherstone Medicinetop Decorah celebrated her three-month sobriety anniversary and was working hard to move back home to Wisconsin in the coming months.

The very next day she was murdered in Winnebago, Neb. by her so-called fiancé, Jonathan Daniel Rooney. This monster did horrible, unthinkable things to our Kozee. His inhumane actions were so severe in nature, it took 14 days for our Kozee to make it back home to Wittenberg, Wis., where she was a member of the Stockbridge-Munsee Tribe of Mohican Indians.

Her body was so burned beyond recognition that official identity confirmation was made through forensic dental records. He murdered her, threw her body and all of his clothes in an outhouse then burned it to the ground leaving only her skull and some of her bones left in the embers.

If that wasn’t horrendous enough, he did all of this with Kozee’s beautiful children present. I refuse to call Jonathan Daniel Rooney the father of Kozee’s beautiful children because a real father, a real man would never take a mother from her children.

We are Kozee’s voice and will not be silenced. Our mission is “Justice for Kozee.” We are changing the narrative, Jonathan Daniel Rooney. Your lies will not be how our Kozee is remembered. When her name is said this is what people will know and remember.

Kozee was a kind-hearted soul with a contagious laugh. Kozee was only 22 years old, and a mother to three precious children who in her own words saved her life. Mila, Kyson and Tydus will know that no matter what; their mother Kozee wanted them to know they were wished for, longed for, prayed for, and that they are forever loved.

Kozee’s faith in God was strong, and she recently acknowledged it was time to let God run her life. The only sense we can make of this is God had a higher purpose for Kozee. Her death will save others. Her death will reform laws. Her death will not be in vain. Her death will bring awareness to Murdered and Missing Indigenous Women (MMIW) around the world. Her death will change lives.

I am writing this requesting your assistance in modifying these charges to murder (premeditated, second degree, etc.), felony child abuse, illegal possession of firearms, obstruction, kidnapping and willful destruction of evidence.

There are nine (9) aggravating factors making murder punishable by death and the unthinkable actions of Jonathan Daniel Rooney meet three of the nine factors which include the following:

1. The murder was committed in an effort to conceal the commission of a crime, or to conceal the identity of the perpetrator of such crime;
2. The offender knowingly created a great risk of death to at least several persons;
3. The murder was committed knowingly to disrupt or hinder the lawful exercise of any governmental function or the enforcement of the laws.

I thank you for your time and consideration in this matter. God Bless You.

Date: Monday, June 15, 2020
To: All Bad River Employees
From: Mike Wiggins Jr. Tribal Chairman / Executive Director

Subject: Travel Guidance

As we begin our return to the workplace full-time, I wanted to share key guidelines. To date our Tribe has been very pro-active in preventive practices, which have resulted in zero positive COVID 19 cases on the Bad River Tribal Reservation. For that, I thank each of you. Together we have made a positive and collective difference.

The following guidelines apply to all Bad River Tribal employees when traveling outside the area. You should interpret this as travel to areas other than home and work, and regular weekly routines in your residential area.

- You should discuss all travel plans with your Supervisor in advance of that travel.
- If your work-related travel is essential, your Supervisor may approve your travel. Your Supervisor also may deny that travel request. Approved essential travel will see employees undergoing a rapid test for covid-19 upon return, prior to returning to your job site. The rapid test will determine if self isolation/quarantine is needed. In the event of a positive test as a result of work-related travel, time off will be covered under administrative leave time.
- Non-essential work travel is highly discouraged until further notice.
- For personal, non-essential travel into areas of great activity or higher populations (metro areas, cities, high levels of human activity), you will be required to take a COVID 19 test prior to returning to work. Please call the Bad River Health & Wellness Center ahead to schedule your test. Upon request, the clinic will provide you with a written copy of your test results. Self isolation/quarantine that is necessary due to personal travel will be covered with the employee banked leave. If in the event there was no leave bank, administrative leave could be considered for public health and safety. Communication with supervisors prior to travel is key.
- Depending on each circumstance of travel, you may be expected to self-quarantine upon return for a period of 14 calendar days and use the appropriate paid/unpaid leave.
- If, in the process of tracing and tracking, you have been identified as having been exposed to a positive COVID 19 citizen, you are expected to be COVID 19 tested and quarantined 14 days. Administrative leave would be provided.

MEDIA STATEMENT

Bad River Statement on Prevention of COVID-19 within the Reservation

In a decision May 13, 2020 the State Supreme Court decided almost all of the State’s Safer-at-Home Order, Executive Order 28, is not enforceable. In response Michael Wiggins Jr., Bad River Chairman, issued the following statement:

“The Bad River Tribal Council closed the gaming facility and limited other activities in Odanah, Wis. with the outcome of protecting our tribal community and surrounding areas.

“Regardless of the State Supreme Court decision, the Bad River Band of Lake Superior Chippewa will continue to follow the ‘Safer-at-Home’ guidance with the outcome of protecting the safety and health of the community while relying closely on the guidance of our public health and medical staff.

“We encourage other governments and municipalities or the broader public to voluntarily follow the safer-at-home guidelines to ensure the long-term safety and health of our communities.”

COVID-19 Temperature and Screening Policy and Procedure
DAILY SCREENING OF ALL EMPLOYEES

The purpose of this procedure is to define the Bad River Tribe’s policy with respect to daily screening and temperature administration for all Tribal Employees during the current COVID-19 pandemic.

Defined:

Pandemic: A disease prevalent over the whole country or the whole world.

Scope of this Policy:

This is a mandatory procedure and shall be followed daily by all Bad River Tribal employees upon entering the Tribal facility in which they work.

The Policy:

Effective Monday, June 15, 2020, all employees reporting to work will be screened daily for respiratory symptoms and have their body temperature taken as a precautionary measure to reduce the spread of COVID-19.

Every employee will be screened, including having his or her temperature taken, when reporting to work. Employees should report to their work location or a central screening location upon arrival at work and prior to entering any other Bad River Tribal community facilities.

Each employee will be screened privately by a designated screener, using a touchless forehead/temporal artery thermometer. The employee’s temperature and answers to respiratory symptom questions will be documented, and the record will be maintained as an employee data log.

An employee who has a fever at or above 100.0 degrees Fahrenheit or who is experiencing coughing or shortness of breath will be sent home to follow the Return to Work Following Screening Temporary Policy. The employee should monitor his or her symptoms and call a doctor or use telemedicine if concerned about the symptoms.

Each Tribal Department will manage their own screening process. For departments with a population of more than ten (10) employees, the Department Head is responsible for designating and scheduling employees to conduct screening in their location. In cases of facilities housing multiple departments (Blackbird Center, Health & Wellness Center), Department Heads will work together for the designation and scheduling of screener employees.

Employees designated as screeners will be trained by the Health & Wellness Center Medical Team.

Invasive Species Control Season

The Great Lakes Indian Fish and Wildlife Commission (GLIFWC) will be continuing control efforts for invasive species, including dalmation toadflax, leafy and cypress spurge, purple loosestrife, wild parsnip, garlic mustard, teasel, yellow iris, and non-native phragmites in Ashland, Bayfield, Douglas, and Iron counties. Work will take place from June through September, primarily within road rights-of-way. Control efforts include manual removal, spot applications of herbicide, and biological control for spurge and loosestrife.

Non-native invasive species can harm native ecosystems across the landscape. Some invasive species can also cause physical harm to wildlife, livestock, and humans. Leafy and cypress spurge can be toxic to deer and cattle, and will displace native plants and forage. Purple loosestrife and non-native phragmites threaten local wetlands and coastal estuaries by displacing native plants and reducing diversity. Wild parsnip can cause phytophotodermatitis if your skin comes in contact with the plant sap in the presence of sunlight, leading to a rash, blistering, and/or skin discoloration that may last several months. Garlic mustard outcompetes many native plant species and is becoming an increasing nuisance in the northwoods. Yellow iris can expand quickly, forming dense monotypic stands that can replace and crowd out valuable native aquatic plants.

The control crew will be following CDC recommendations to prevent the spread of respiratory diseases such as Covid-19 while conducting their work. This will include the use of PPE, driving in separate vehicles, and maintaining safe distances from others.

Maps depicting the local distribution of invasive species and past control efforts can be found at http://maps.glifwc.org For general information, please visit GLIFWC’s invasive species website at: http://invasives.glifwc.org. Contact Travis Bartnick at (715) 682-6619 ext. 2166 or email at tbartnick@glifwc.org for more information.
What Tribal Members need to know about COVID-19

What is coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19)?
Coronaviruses are a type of virus (germ) that can cause cold-like symptoms and sometimes serious problems with lungs and breathing. COVID-19 is a novel (new) coronavirus.

What are the symptoms of COVID-19?
Mild to severe respiratory illness, or problems with lungs and breathing. Symptoms include:

- Cough or shortness of breath.
- Fever, chills, repeated shaking with chills, muscle pain, headache, sore throat, or new loss of taste or smell.

How does COVID-19 spread?
Person to person by coughing, sneezing, or personal contact like touching or shaking hands. Someone with mild symptoms may spread the disease without knowing they are sick.

Who is most at risk?
Anyone can get COVID-19. Those at risk of severe illness include:

- Elders and adults over 60 years of age,
- People with heart disease, lung disease, or diabetes.

How can I protect myself and my family?
Stay at home. “Social distancing” is recommended. This means keeping your family at home and away from others who may be sick.

- If you must go out, wear a mask or bandana and try to stay 6 feet away from others.
- Avoid gatherings with other people.
- Avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth.
- Do not shake hands, hug, or touch others.
- Wash your hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds or use hand sanitizer.

Have there been cases of COVID-19 in our state?
Yes, there have been cases in all 50 states.

If someone gets sick, what can they do?
- If someone thinks they have been around someone with COVID-19 and they get a fever and symptoms such as cough or trouble breathing, they should call their healthcare provider or local Indian Health Service unit for medical advice.
  - In an emergency, call 911.
  - People who are mildly sick with COVID-19 do not need to see a healthcare provider and are able to recover at home.
  - Cover coughs and sneezes with a tissue, then throw the tissue in the trash and wash hands.
  - Stay home and away from others for 14 days to avoid getting others sick.
  - Caregivers should keep sick family members away from others in the home and clean and disinfect surfaces and items that are touched often, like door handles, sink handles, toilets, remote controls, etc.

Is there a vaccine or treatment?
There is no vaccine. The best way to reduce the risk of getting sick with COVID-19 is to practice social distancing and healthy habits like washing hands regularly.
There is no specific treatment for COVID-19, but medical care can help relieve symptoms. If you are sick, call your healthcare provider for instructions.
