Summary: The Tribal Aging and Disability Resource Specialist (Tribal ADRS) works in partnership with tribal health and human services agencies and Aging and Disability Resource Centers (ADRCs) in the tribe's service area to ensure that Indian Health Services (IHS) eligible individuals receive culturally appropriate information about aging and disability resources and can comfortably and effectively access long-term care programs and services.

Essential Duties and Responsibilities include the following. Other duties may be assigned by the Aging Program Manager or the Director of Social and Family Services.

- Engage in marketing and outreach to inform IHS eligible individuals about services available through the tribal ADRS and the local ADRC.
- Develop culturally sensitive informational materials.
- Provide basic information and assistance, and options counseling for IHS eligible individuals in a location of their choosing which could include over the phone, office, virtually, in their home or another preferred location in the community.
- Refer IHS eligible individuals to the appropriate elderly benefit specialist or disability benefit specialist as needed.
- Serve as a liaison and customer advocate for HIS eligible individuals referred to area ADRC's for further information and assistance, options counseling, and enrollment in publicly funded long-term care services.
- Develop and maintain customer records, which includes customer records in the statewide client tracking system, for HIS eligible individuals served.
- Prepare correspondence and other documentation as required by DHS program guidelines.
- Complete 100%-time reporting for Medicaid Administrative claiming.
- Consult with DHS on issues relating to tribal ADRS and/or ADRC services for IHS eligible individuals.
- Additional duties as assigned, consistent with the required and optional services described in Scope of Work and the Tribal ADRS Operations Manual.
- Attend all recommended tribal or state-related meetings as a representative of the tribe.
- Assist IHS eligible individuals in preparing materials needed to determine financial eligibility.
- Provide enrollment counseling for IHS eligible individuals needing publicly funded long-term care services.
- Provide short term service coordination for IHS eligible individuals.
- Provide dementia specific programs, activities, and services for IHS eligible individuals.
- Provide health promotion, prevention, and early intervention services for IHS eligible individuals.

- Provide pre-admission consultation services and assistance with nursing home resident relocations for IHS eligible individuals.
